In what better way could the memory of these splendid men be perpetuated than by the erection of a suitable Library Building, a prominent feature of which would be the emblazoning upon its walls the names of the departed. Have we not among our students of other years men who have been saved the horrors and exposure of the trenches and the long battle lines of Europe blazing death, who out of their abundance, or even out of their poverty, would feel grateful for an opportunity to contribute to such a cause? Any one who has visited Mt. Allison in recent years and has learned anything of the congested condition of our Library Rooms, will appreciate the urgency of the need. With books scattered over the campus filling some six or eight different rooms where it is impossible to catalogue them so as to make them available for use, the force of the appeal is evident. The present conditions are wasteful and, in fact, intolerable.

Thirty or forty thousand dollars would give us a convenient fireproof Library Building where the archives of the Church and the invaluable library collection could be protected, and at the same time lease the present library rooms in the University building for the use of the large classes that will undoubtedly return to us as soon as our boys get home.

GENERAL NEWS
Raymond C. Archibald, ’94

In September of last year Professor Archibald was appointed by the National War Council of the Y. M. C. A. of the United States one of a committee of six to make a survey of the mathematical teaching in connection with the Y. M. C. A. at the various naval stations of the country. He was assigned to the North East Section from Maine to Connecticut.

He has also been honored recently by appointment as Editor-in-Chief of the American Mathematical Monthly, which has the largest circulation of any mathematical periodical in America. It is the official organ of the Mathematical Association of America. His duties commence January 1st, 1919. Professor Archibald is Professor of Mathematics at Brown University.

Harold G. Black, ’07

During the summer Mr. Black was married to Miss Ursula Lee of Santa Ana, California. After graduation Mr. Black taught English in the Ladies’ College, later going to Harvard for graduate work in English. He went from Harvard to Acadia as Professor of English but found the work too exacting for his strength. He resigned and went to California for a rest eventually completely recovering his health. He is now teaching English in the Sacramento High School.

Lt. Col. Arthur H. Johnson, ’03

He has recently been promoted to the rank of Lt.-Col. in appreciation of his work as Superintendent of Helens Hospital and later as Senior Medical Officer of the Surgical Division of the Military Hospital, Shorncliffe, and Acting Area Consulting Surgeon.

Lieut. C. H. Cochrane, ’11

Lieut. Cochrane has been winning athletic events in competition between his Brigade and the 26th Battalion being the winner of the one hundred yard dash and the broad jump. He has recently been recommended for his captaincy. He has recently been ill in a hospital in France but is now back with his battery.

MOUNT ALLISON UNIVERSITY
CANADIAN OFFICERS TRAINING CORPS

After four years of active work the C. O. T. C. has been disbanded. During those four years it has played a very important part in the life of the University. At the beginning of the war, when Training Corps were being established in the colleges of Canada, Capt. A. H. Borden, ’03, now Col. Borden, B. S. O., was detailed to Mount Allison to organize the C. O. T. C. Fortunately at that time the new gymnasium was about completed and the government supplied the funds for whatever alterations were necessary to make it suitable for the use of the Corps. One hundred and fifty rifles and equipment were supplied and the work of organization began with great enthusiasm. From then until the present year the Corps has been in active existence though many other similar Corps have been disbanded. Professors F. E. Wheelock, of the University staff was appointed O.C. of the Corps with the rank of Capt., Lieut. Norman H. Weirmore ’17 was appointed in command of “A” Co. with J. C. Wightman, Eng. ’15 Second in command, J. L. McKeen of the University staff was appointed Adjutant of the Corps.

While attendance at the parades of the Corps was not compulsory, a certain inducement to attend was given through the lowering of the passing mark from fifty to forty five, for those who attended seventy five per cent of the drills. While this was an inducement to some, the chief motive was the desire of the men to fit themselves for service to which they all looked forward. As a matter of fact very few men of the age of nineteen, who were physically fit members of the Corps, did not enlist long before conscription became a law of the land.

Various changes in the command took place as time went on. The student officers, if fit, enlisted and many have given their lives. During the last two years the Corps has been composed of upper classmen who almost to a man had been rejected, and the entering class of Freshmen. To the former only a genuine wish to do their bit despite their incapacity for active service, kept them at the training which after a year naturally loses its novelty.

That the Corps has played a splendid part in Mount Allison’s war history is without doubt. Practically every undergraduate who has enlisted has been trained in the Corps and the very large proportion of officers among Mount Allison men testifies to the value of their training.
DECORATIONS

Grant Trappell, '15-'16 M. M.

He went overseas in 1916 and was attached to the 66th Battery of the 14th Brigade. Word has been received that he has been given the Military Medal for bravery in the field. His brother Donald M. Trappell '19 went overseas early in the war. He was reported "Dead" in April 1916 after having been "Missing" for over a year.

GIFTS TO THE UNIVERSITY

In the will of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth DeWitt of Bridgetown, N. S., among other bequests the sum of $500 is left to the Regents of Mount Allison University.

In the recent meeting of the Board of Regents Dr. Borden reported that he had been making an effort to increase the endowment of the University by $50,000. Toward this end four subscriptions of five thousand dollars each had been obtained. A member of the Board had agreed to give five thousand dollars provided nine others would give a similar amount. In response to that challenge subscriptions of five thousand dollars each had been obtained from Sir Joseph W. Flavelle and Sir John Eaton of Toronto and Mr. Joseph Allison of St. John. The income from this fund of fifty thousand dollars will be used in increasing the salaries of members of the staff.

BOARD OF REGENTS

At the recent meeting of the Board it was decided to ask the legislature of the province for permission to increase by six the representation of the Alumnae and Alumni Societies on the Board. It is proposed to add four members from the Alumni Society and two from the Alumnae. This increases the number of members of the Board to forty-five. It increases the representation of the Alumni and Alumnae Societies from fifteen to twenty-one.

We print below a copy of the Third Annual Report of the Class of 1915 with the hope it will be an incentive to other classes to undertake a similar report.

MOUNT ALLISON UNIVERSITY—CLASS OF 1915

Third Annual Report Since Graduation.

Classmates:

The graduating class of the present year at Convocation presented to the University, to be hung in the College Chapel, a service flag which recorded four of the members of the '18 class fallen on the field of battle. Looking back on the past college year we have cause for thankfulness that the Great War has not as yet made a break in our class membership.

There have been many changes, however, during the year. Bob McMillan is a prisoner in Germany. Barnes and Hollett have been wounded, the latter discharged with a permanently disabled right arm. Chris Graham turned down the opportunity of a furlough this summer on account of the need of men "over there." Harry Cartledge has been in Italy on a Y. M. C. A. mission. Harold Colpitts has resigned the principalship of Dorchester High School and is with the colors.

There is but one marriage to record, that of Russell Yull. The class members seem to be bearing in mind the desirability of remaining eligible for attendance at the Reunion.

The class letter passed through the President's hands during the winter, though its present location is in doubt.

"Anniversary boxes," bound with brown and white ribbon, were sent to the overseas members by the "Silent Six," under the Vice-President's direction.

Your President hopes to have his headquarters and the central office of the class in Sackville again next year.

Let us give Capt. Graham's annual letter scheme another trial. Will you each send the President a letter next month (July) and we shall see what sort of a compendium can be composed from them?

Meanwhile let us hope and pray for a peaceful and prosperous Canada in Reunion year, 1926.

For '15,

W. FRASER MUNRO, Pres.
MOLLIE E. LINGLEY, Vice-Pres.
JAMES G. HACKETT, Sec'y.

DIED IN SERVICE

Cadet Harold C. Davis '17 died in England of pneumonia following influenza, on Nov. 19th, 1918.

Kenneth K. MacKenzie Eng. '09
Killed in the American Army.

SICK AND WOUNDED

Lieut. N. Roland Norman '05-'07
He went overseas in the R. A. F. and after some training in England saw service in France and Italy. He had his leg badly injured in a fall and as a result it was believed that he would lose the use of it, but fortunately it got well enough for him to be returned to Canada. He is now in Toronto as an instructor on the New Holland Page machines.

Lloyd Barnes '15
He went overseas in the 86th Battalion from Nova Scotia. Word has recently reached us that he was wounded though details are lacking.

Capt. J. C. Wightman, Eng. '15
Capt. Wightman has been honorably discharged from the service on account of sickness. Unable to go overseas he has since 1915 been attached to the Detention Camp in Amherst, N. S., for the greater part of the time as Second in Command.

OBITUARY

Joseph Avard McQueen '82-'83
Mr. McQueen died at his house in Dorchester, N. B., on Nov. 17th after an extended illness. He was born in Pointe de Bute, N. B., in 1882 and was educated at Mount Allison University. In 1901 he was elected a member of the legislature of N. B. for West Co., with H. A. Powell '75 as the other representative. Later he was appointed High Sheriff, a position he held until 1906. His only son
W. A. McQueen '12-'13 died of the influenza epidemic on Oct. 30th, 1918.

GENERAL NOTES

He was first in the Medical Corps and later was given a commission in the infantry serving with the 4th Battalion in France. He was wounded at the Somme in 1916 and sent home on leave and on returning transferred to the R. A. F. After training in Egypt he was sent to Palestine and attached to Gen. Allenby's army. He was through the exciting events which led to the destruction of the Turkish forces in Palestine. He then just arrived home from England.

W. E. Marshall, Ac.

A recent number of the Busy East contains a cut of Mr. Marshall, a brief biography and one of his poems. Mr. Marshall was born in 1859 and received his early education at Mount Allison Academy. He later studied law and practised his profession in Bridgewater until appointed Registrar of Deeds for Lunenburg District. In 1909 Mr. Marshall published a collection of poems entitled "A Book of Verse." The poem which has brought him most note is 'Brookfield,' which was first published in the University Magazine in 1914. It was inspired by the author's love of his friend R. R. McLeod, the author of "Markland.

H. A. McKeown '21

The Hamilton Spectator has the following note concerning the address of Justice McKeown to the General Conference of the Methodist church. "While there were many messages and warnings offered the delegates perhaps none was more effective than that which came from Chief Justice McKeown, D. C. L., of St. John, N. B., who in responding to the official welcomes extended by Sir John Gibson and Mayor Reeder of Hamilton, pointed to the charged conditions which have resulted from the war, and warned the Methodist Church that it must justify itself in the crisis which has come upon the world."

Philip Nase M. D., '08

Capt. Nase has recently returned from overseas where he served in the R. A. M. C. Shortly after his return he was married to Miss Stewart of Summerside, P.E.I. Prior to going overseas he was Asst. Supt. of the Saskatchewan provincial hospital for the insane. He intends to practice in St. John in the future.

Winthrop P. Bell, '04

From the beginning of the war, when he was a student in a German University, Mr. Bell has been interned in Ruhleben. He has just been released and has arrived in England on his way home.

Winonah Durant, L. C.

Miss Durant, who spent some time on the Western front as a nurse, is going to Siberia in the same capacity with the Canadian Siberian draft. Her brother N. M. Durant '11-'14 is also on overseas service.

Miss Lilian Hart, L. C.

Miss Hart has for some time been a nurse at the Kentville, N. S. Sanatorium. She has recently given up that position to accept another as head nurse in a private hospital recently opened in Wolfville, N. S.

Laura M. Wilson, L. C., '12

After graduating in Voice at the Ladies' College Miss Wilson taught vocal for two years in Glace Bay, at the same time directing the choir of the Knox Presbyterian Church. Then after spending some time at home she went to California and taught piano and voice. Last year she attended the State Normal School at San José receiving the regular diploma and a High School Music Diploma as well.

E. S. Storey, '07-'10

Some time ago Mr. Storey was married in Boston to Miss Florence Lois Taylor, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Taylor, of Charlottetown, P.E.I.

2nd Lieut. Harold Fawcett, '14

Lient. Fawcett is in the American Army. When war broke out he was teaching in Maine and soon after enlisted in the American Army as a private. We print below extracts from one of his letters recently received by his family in Sackville.

Saumur, France, July 5, 1918.

Just a line as I sit here in my office for a few moments. In my last hurried letters I think I conveyed the idea to you that I had successfully competed the course here and had been recommended for a commission.

Also that I had been asked to remain here as an Instructor, but had stated that I did not wish to, preferring to be attached to a battery. However much I fooled myself that my feelings in the matter would be worth anything, last Monday an order came out designating certain men to remain here as instructors, and so here I am as my name was among them. Imagine teaching warfare to a bunch of men when last year this time I was at the most peaceful spot on earth, Aslinor.

Yesterday was the 4th, the grand old 4th, and we had a great celebration here. A grand review of all the troops in the morning before a French and an American General to the music of the band; an aeroplane flying overhead and very low; a grand address in French by the French General; and the presentation of the French flag to the American General--these were all very impressive and we were quite thrilled. In the afternoon there were many track events, events on the chardonnets and field events also. I ran in a race, and hardly know how it was, but was fortunate enough to win. All the events were very very interesting and enjoyable. There were some remarkable feats of horsemanship.

I am now very comfortable situated all by myself in a cozy little room overlooking the Loire. Between the house in which my room is located and the Loire, there is only a narrow road and the house is protected by a big concrete wall on which the water washes, and which it never overflows, although it rises very high. The view from my window is beautiful. I am just across the river from the town and on raising my eyes from the paper I can see the old bridge with its twelve arches and a steady stream of people moving back and forth. Then there are the tall spires of the churches of the city, and far to the left standing out in its bold relief on the highest bluff of all, the old historical castle of the Anjou line which I have written to you about before. It is a magnificent view and very inspiring. The banks of the river are lined with fishermen in the evening, and often one can see a pleasure boat skimming over the smooth water with the silver water drops shining and glistening with every stroke of the paddle.

Miss Hazen Deinstad, L. C.

Miss Deinstad has been one of Mount Allison's nurses at the front for nearly three years. She has just returned home to St. John. She is a daughter of Rev. T. J. Deinstad.

Dr. John W. Wadman, '79

Dr. Wadman has been in Washington for a couple of years urging on Congress the prohibition of the liquor traffic in Hawaii. He is about to return home after seeing the successful accomplishment of his mission.

W. C. Milner, '64

Mr. Milner has an article in a recent number of the Busy East on "Our Lieutenant Governors." For many years he was editor and proprietor of the Chignecto Post of Sackville. Later he removed to Halifax where he is in the Archives Department of the Dominion Government. He wields a facile pen and is one of the best informed men in Canada on historical affairs of the Dominion.

Miss Winifred Thomas, '08

For a number of years Miss Thomas was a teacher in the Ladies' College. Two years ago she resigned to take the position of Secretary of Student Affairs at the Y. W. C. A. in Eastern Canada, a position she is well qualified to fill. She has recently resigned this work to accept a position of still greater responsibility under the Y. W. C. A. as Secretary of Girls' Work for Canada.

Miss Kathleen Smith, L. C., '12

Miss Smith for two years has been a teacher in the Piano Department of the Ladies' College. She has recently resigned this position to accept another in the Canadian Academy in Kobe, Japan. Miss Smith is a pianist of unusual talent.

Conference Presidents

Three of the presidents of provincial Methodist Conferences are former Mount Allison students. Rev. A. S. Tuttle, '05, is president of the Alberta Conference, Rev. G. M. Young, '38-'39, of the New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island Conference and Dr. Levi Curtis, '89, of the Newfoundland Conference.

R. Orlando Atkinson, '13

Some time ago we wrote of Mr. Atkinson being sent to Russia with the Root Commission as one of a body of eleven college men under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., to do what they could to restore the vanishing morals of the Russian army. He tells the story of his experiences, in the October and November numbers of Harper's Magazine. They are excellent descriptions, by an intelligent and observing eye-witness of the stirring events taking place in the dying empire. His first article is entitled "Watching the Russian Army Die" and the second "Travelling Through Siberian Chaos." Mr. Atkinson was a prominent man in College, an excellent student and a leader of debate. After graduation he went to Harvard to study law but finding the work uncongenial he went into the Graduate School to study English. He was particularly fitted for the work he has done in Russia. At present he is in Washington working on Russian matters and writing for Harper's, the Outlook and Asia. He is enrolled in the American Army at present as a private being detailed for work at Washington in connection with Russia having some time ago refused a Captaincy requiring him to go to Russia.

Mabel Dixon, '07

Miss Dixon has recently been appointed Lady Principal of the Polytechnic College of Oakland, California. She is a graduate of the Ladies' College as well as of the University. Last year she was on the staff of Columbia College, New Westminster, B. C. Her brother, Lloyd Dixon, a former Rhodes Scholar, is in the British Army.

Evelyn Geff, L. C.

Word has recently come that Miss Evelyn Geff died recently in Seattle of influenza. She was a student in the Violin Department for several years and afterwards studied in Toronto. She was a sister of Maud Geff, '16.

Major Arthur Bigney, '01

Arthur Bigney who was for a number of years highly efficient teacher of Mathematics in Kansas City has been given a position as teacher in the New Mexico Military Institute at Rosewell. The number of students is large consisting of a Reserve Officers Training Corps and a Student Army Training Corps. The town has about 10,000 inhabitants and includes thirty-four millionaires.

Lawrence Colpitts, '03

After returning from overseas with a wounded arm L. M. Colpitts was married and went to Alberta. He found his physical disability serious for ranching and has entered on the study of law. He is Secretary for one of the districts including the town in which he lives, Youngstown, Alberta.
